New concept, new partners

We managed to establish cooperation with the team hosting the international conference TECH-FORUM 2017, focused on ventilation, cooling nad heating, respectively HVAC solutions for designers, architects, representatives of developers and other professionals in building industry. The next edition will be held the first day of the trade fair in the Congress Centre of the Exhibition Grounds. This will create synergic connection of two most important events in the field of HVAC in the Slovak Republic and it will automatically create high and well profiled attendance at the show.
